SA Senator Don Farrell to open ACHPER International Conference linking exercise and learning

Sunday, April 17 2011

Over 400 delegates will convene in Adelaide tomorrow for the 27th International Conference of the Australian Council for Health, Physical Education and Recreation to be opened by South Australian Senator Don Farrell.

The 'Moving, Learning and Achieving' conference will focus on how recent brain research has revealed a compelling link between regular exercise, brain development and enhanced learning.

The Conference will showcase the findings of world leaders in this area who have motivated and inspired health and physical education professionals to adopt new approaches.

These global experts include Jean Blaydes Madigan (Texas), Dr Frances Cleland (West Chester University, Pennsylvania), Dr Ken Rigby (University of South Australia, Australia) and Dr Tim Hopper (University of Victoria, British Columbia).

27th ACHPER International Conference 'Moving, Learning and Achieving'

Where: Prince Alfred College, Dequetteville Terrace, Kent Town, Adelaide, SA
When: Commences 9am Monday 18th April 2011 and finishes at 3.30pm
